Woodson . . .

First glance: A disorganized blur of faces, assemblies, books, halls, and assorted athletics.

Woodson . . .

A closer look: A best friend; a Senator's visit, CH_3COOH, a homeroom, a basketball player.

Woodson . . .

STUDENT LIFE

CAVALIERS

CAVALIERS

Vacation has ended and school has begun. The building and grounds that stood almost deserted all summer begin to fill up. The people arrive slowly at first, then more quickly. The school that had seemed void of all life is now brimming with the laughter and shouting of thousands of students.

Industrious Dale Gallagher and Chip Chase waste no time in getting back to the books.

The Baton Corps lends its spirit as Mr. Ladson addresses the student body at the dedication of the stadium.

Having a fifth period test can change a lunch period into a half hour of cramming in the library.

The Drama Club's presentation of ' Barefoot in the Park ' proved to be a huge success. In this scene, Judy Seitzer shocks her husband (John Bennett) by leaping over the couch.

Judy Seitzer, Jay Brown, John Williams, and Chuck Montgomery exhibit mixed emotions as Maureen Peer enters in a man's bathrobe.

Slightly stiff after dining on "niches" and "oozoo", Maureen Peer receives a little help from her son-in-law (John Bennett).

Judy Seitzer and Jay Brown, also affected by their dinner, try to play ping-pong with their hands.

There may be doubt about their neatness.
Some may wonder if the janitors
are going to quit.
The fire hazards may cause some
to worry.
But one thing is very definite:
We've got Spirit.

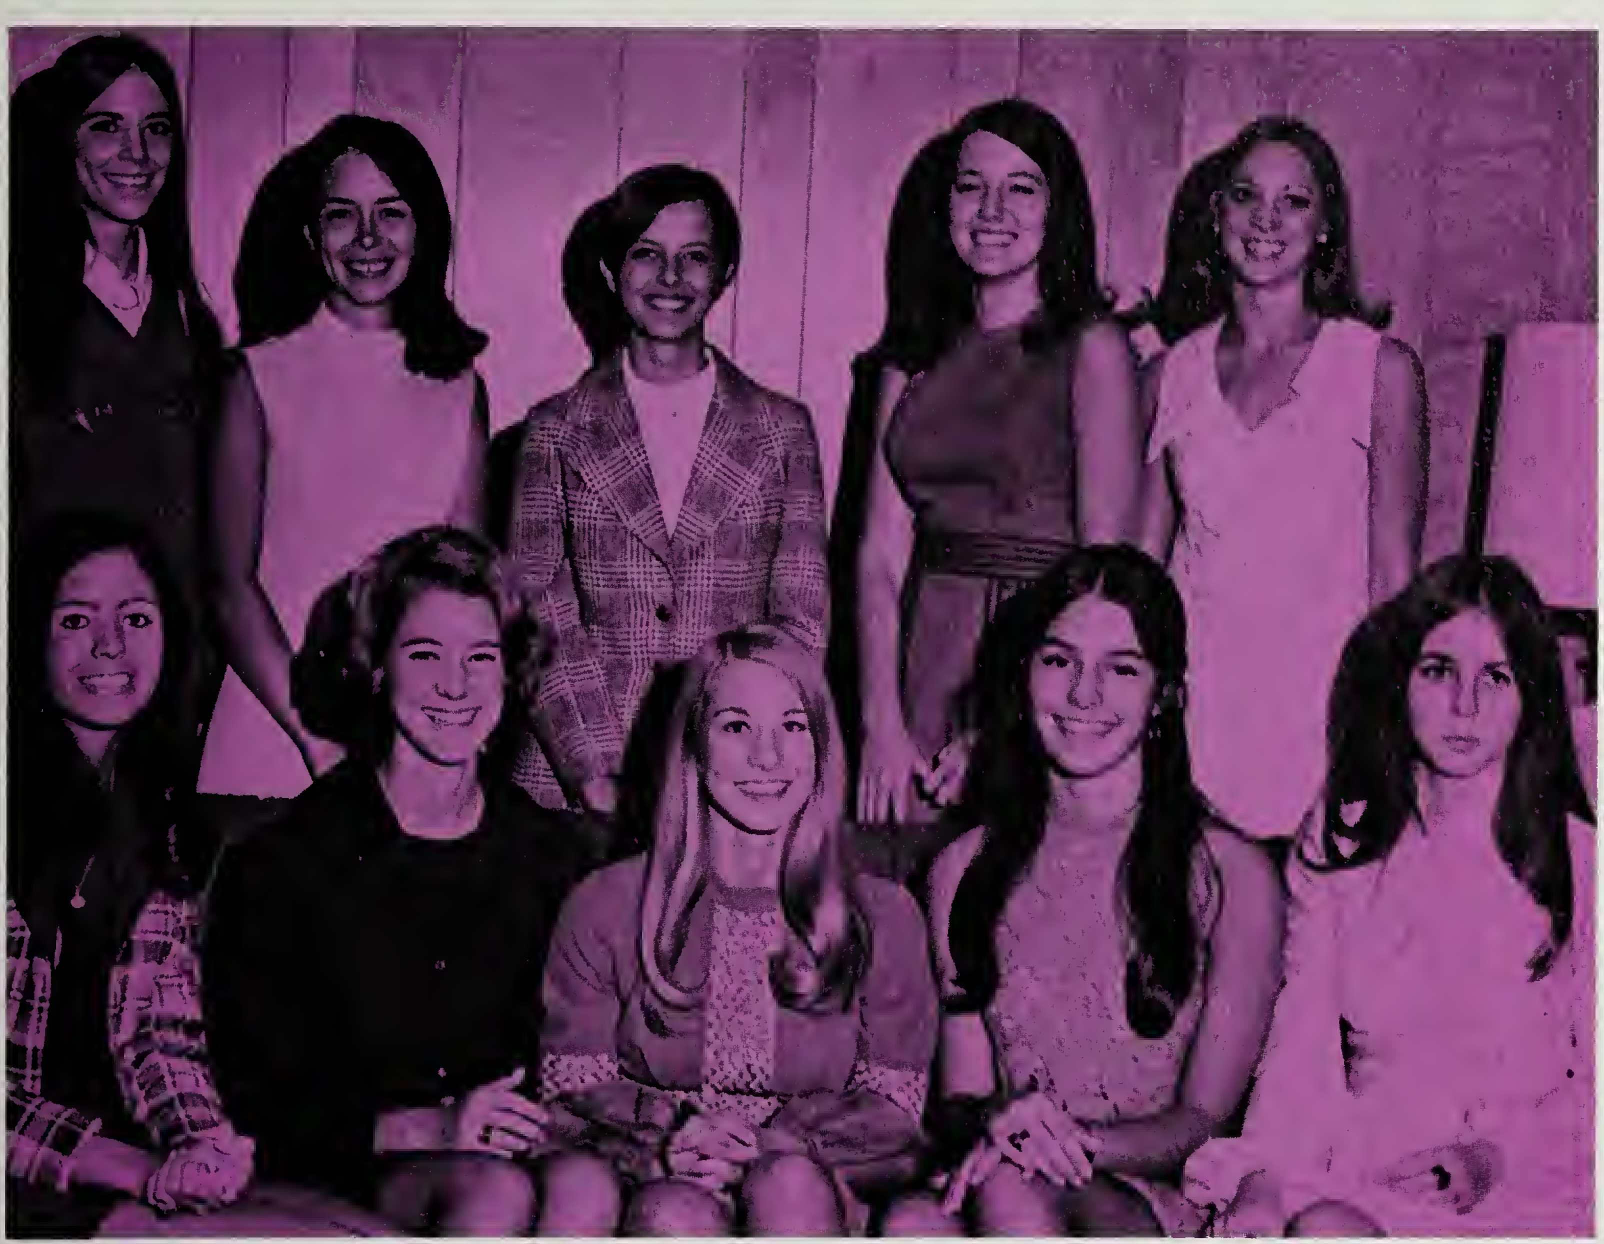
WOODSON
WOODSON

That masochistic season came again as Woodson's finest examples of young manhood bruised and battered themselves for the glory and honor of WTW.

A parade of floats, a raging bonfire, and a memorable dance all contributed to the Oktoberfest celebration.



The Fall Festival Court: Row 1: Elaine Prickett, Kathy Freeman, Judy Seitzer, Queen, Toni Young, Kris Stout. Row 2: Nancy McGovern, Jill Roulstone, Cathy Bracewell, Joyce Bawer, Jill Atkinson.

Instead of the usual autumn Magazine Drive, the S.C.A. sponsored the Box Tops Concert. As a money-raising project, the outdoor concert may never replace the Magazine Drive, but it has liberated the Juniors and Seniors from being door-to-door salesmen.

Having just finished speaking to an auditorium full of responsive students, Senator Percy is mobbed by his newest followers.

A foreign exchange student from South Viet Nam explains the meaning of the characters on his native costume at the American Field Service assembly.

After one of Woodson's fire drills, the homing instinct in these students draws them back to the class from which they were so unceremoniously dismissed.

With the girls hot on their heels, the boys ran for their bachelorhood. But feminine wiles, with the assistance of Marryin' Sam, triumphed in the end. The Sadie Hawkins Dance was stocked with couples in marital bliss.

Chris Hoffman puzzles Paul Mandich and Mark Chmar with his card tricks.

Henry Walker tests his putting skill at the Senior Class Casino while Reed Bond conducts the horseraces.

Woodson students listen to the sounds of the season at the Christmas choral assembly.

Bryan Ross, as well as many others, took advantage of the cafeteria's à la carte program.

Through ridicule and persecution, Mrs. Jones, Mr. Buskirk, and Mr. Volrath remained faithful and were rewarded by His presence.

Larry Whitener wades knee-deep through Woodson's benevolent spirit.

The door to the Senior Office reflects the class's abundance of Christmas cheer.

As though inspired by some religious frenzy, couples respond to the music at the Christmas Dance.

Karen Moot, Queen for an evening, gazes at her escort, Joe Winfree, for approval.

A classic example of the ecstatic female.

The 1969 Christmas Court included Candace Callaham, Diane Donald, Georgia Bacas, Carol Duley, Maid of Honor, Karen Moot, Queen, Sherri Smith, Maid of Honor, Vashti Mays, Rita Enei, Becky Sarley, and Suzanne Carr.

Jill Atkinson, Keith Michael, Mark Bladergroen, and Patti Rugg dance to the sounds of the Wilderbeast.

As thirsty couples gather around the refreshment table, Pam Clark refills the punch bowl.

500 Voices Sing in Small World

Extravaganza's Small World held the audience's undivided attention as gypsy and hillbilly acts, barbershop quartets and various soloists performed on stage.

The von Trapp children, played by Karin Grier, Allan Newcomb, Carrie Reynolds, Marsha Krengel, Tom Clark, and Diana Goad, gather around Maria, Debbie Balch, to learn the rudements of singing.

Winston Grahl and Richie Cleaves, double-cast as Max, watch as Maureen Peer goes over their dance, step by step. Four major roles were double-cast, with each person performing two nights.

Rita Enei, as student director, spends many hours coaching and coaxing the cast members.

Much of the success of Sound of Music must be credited to the smaller roles, such as that of a nun. Here, Linda Solorzano and Leslie Cayot sing through "Dixit Dominos" for the first of many times.

Class of '70 presents Sound of Music

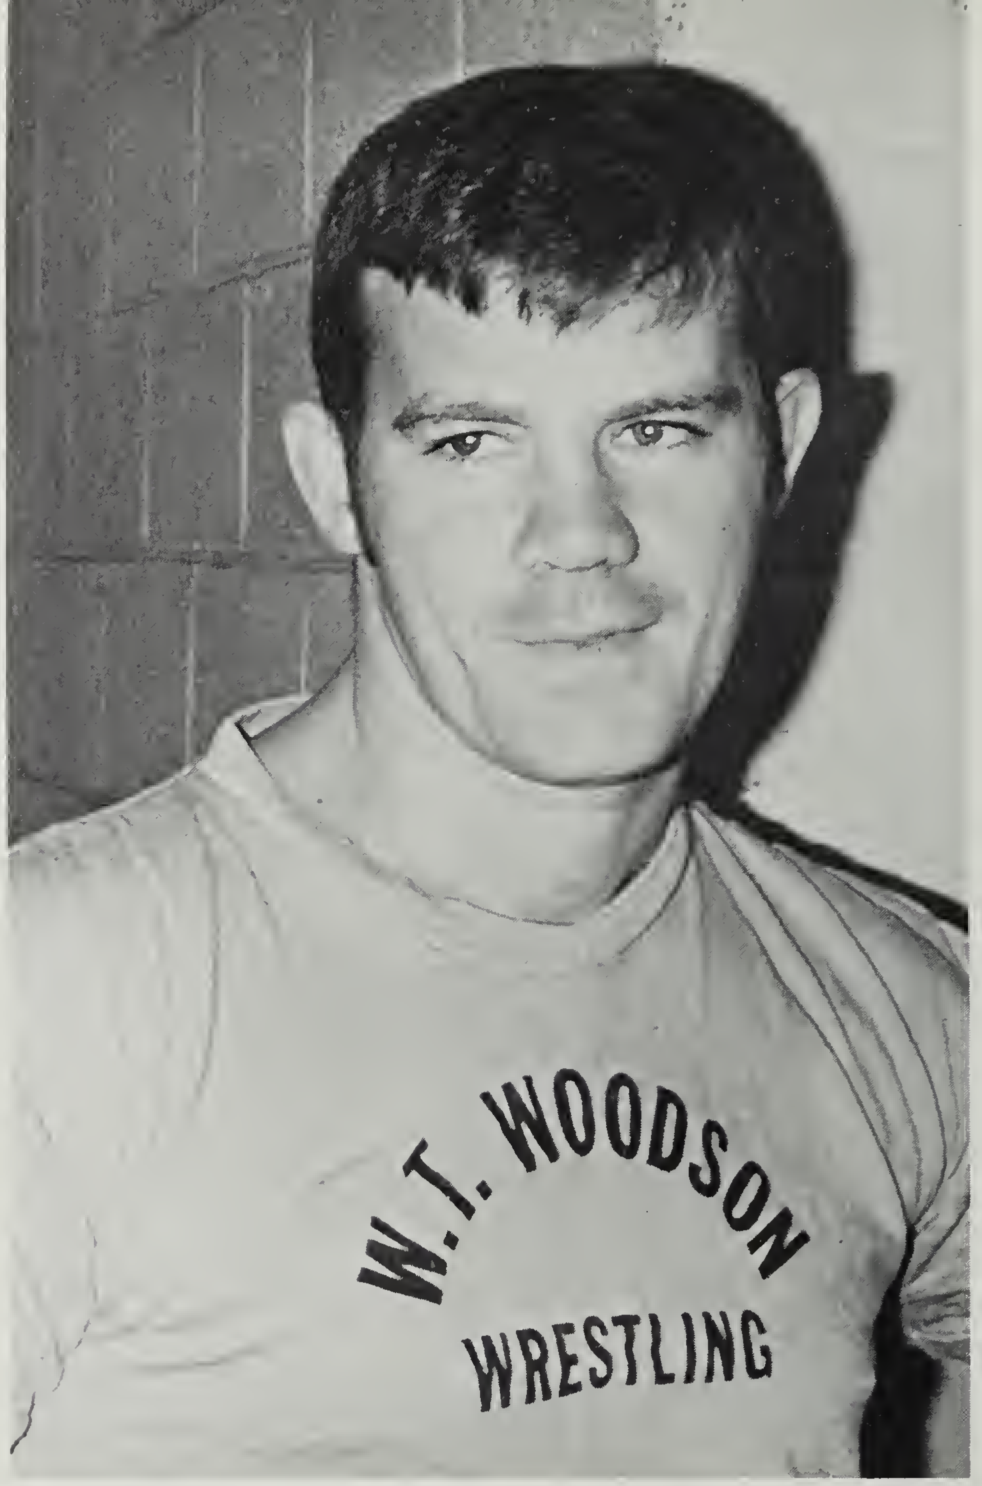
With the help of Debbie Balch's fantastic voice, the Senior Class Play was a great success.

Frau Schmidt, Barb Abernathy, tries to persuade Gretle to curtsy. Out of eight children who tried out for the part, Mimi was selected to play Gretle.

Lou Riso, Captain von Trapp, discusses stage directions for his next scene with Mrs. Bedinger, the play's director.

in the midst of play we are at work



There were times it seemed so far away, our Senior Year. There was so much ahead of us. We never thought we'd make it. And through those four long years (that now seem suddenly so short) he stood with us, to lead, to follow, to reprimand, to amuse, to amaze, to infuriate, to be infuriated, to help, to be our guide. For those four years of service, the Class of 1970 can never repay him. We only hope that through our actions Mr. Houlihan can tell how much we appreciate his dedication.

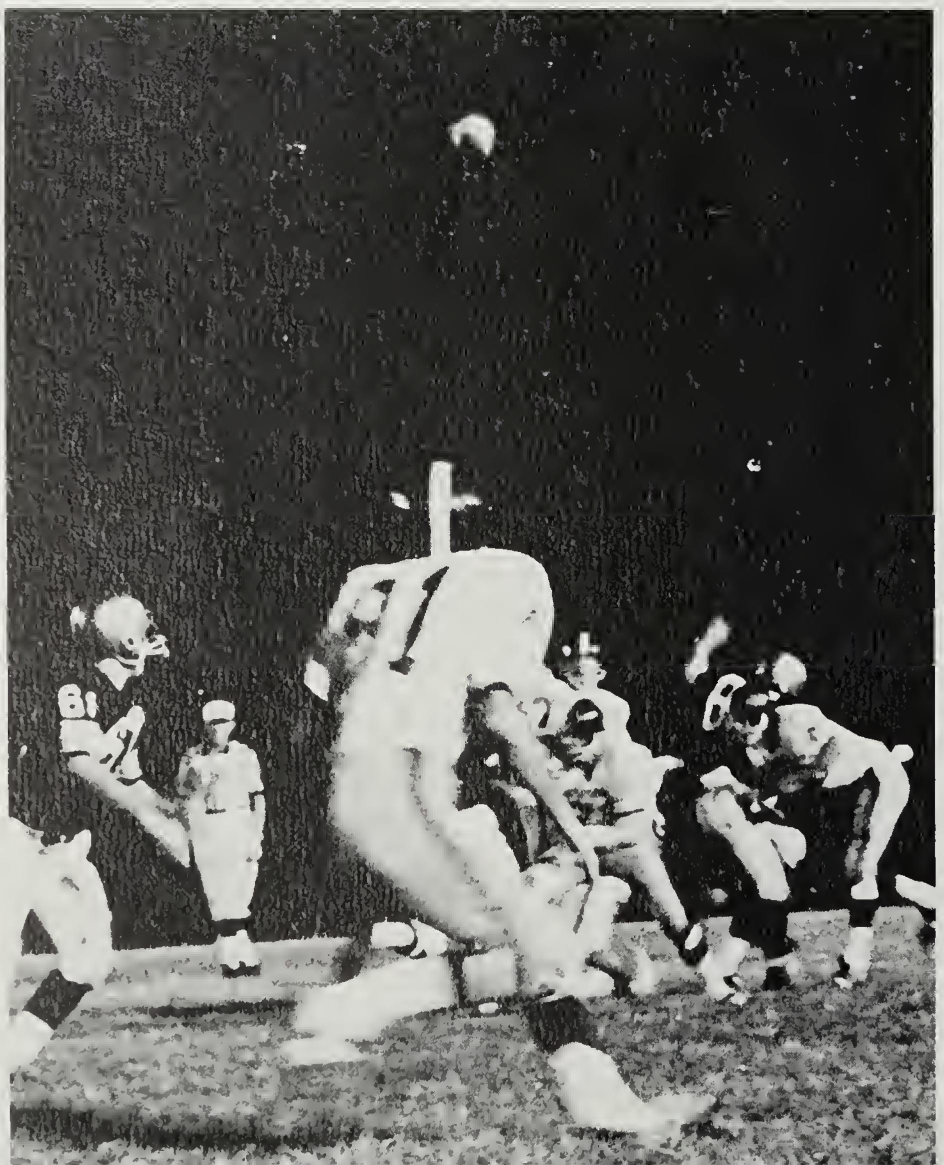
Offense

Woodson's tough offense this year averaged 19.7 points per game. Quarterbacked by Mark Bladergroen, along with the leading ground gainer Bill Kuykendall, the offense compiled an impressive 8-1-1 record. Bill Kuykendall was high scorer with 15 touchdowns and 802 yards total.

Defense

The W.T. Woodson defense this year led by Bernie Hall and Owen Dickens held their opponents to 6.3 points per game. Joe Winfree led in interceptions with 5. The only two Varsity Football players to make the All Metropolitan team were on defense, and they were Randy Owens and Bernie Hall.



VARSITY FOOTBALL

In the first game of the season, Woodson romped Edison, 22-0. Bill Kuykendall had 26 carries for 98 yards and two touchdowns. Jim Gearhart scored a third touchdown with two extra points by Greg Rippey. Randy Owens, on an excellent defensive play, brought the Edison ball carrier down in his own end zone.

In our second game against West Springfield, Joe Winfree and Owen Dickens made pass interceptions which set up a touchdown pass by Mark Bladergroen and a touchdown run by Bill Kuykendall. The two extra points were again scored by Greg Rippey.

During the Groveton game, Woodson's second string gained valuable experience by winning 41-0. Bill Kuykendall, in his highest scoring game, scored three touchdowns. Mike Rieley scored with two touchdowns and Roger Dunn added another touchdown to the game. Bob Whitmire, with his educated toe, scored five points after the touchdown.

Woodson's fifth game resulted in a heartbreaking loss to Stuart, 12-8. Even though Joe Winfree captured a Stuart pass for an important turnover, the game remained Woodson's only loss of the year.

Bill Kuykendall with another high-scoring game made three touchdowns in a fifth win over Oakton. A Bladergroen-Gearhart pass scored a fourth touchdown and a punt return by Joe Winfree scored a fifth.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Woodson for the first time in its history beat the Annandale Atoms, 19-8. Touchdowns were made by Mark Bladergroen who was the leading ground gainer with six carries for 86 yards. Sophomore Roger Dunn scored a touchdown along with Bill Kuykendall. Joe Winfree made one interception and Bob Whitmire converted one extra point.

Woodson's commanding defense held Jefferson scoreless the whole first half to give Woodson its sixth win, 16-8. Bob Whitmire tackled a Colonial in his end zone for a safety then converted two extra points. Bill Kuykendall and Roger Dunn scored touchdowns and Joe Winfree intercepted another pass.

Woodson's seventh game was a win over McLean, 14-12. Joe Winfree got one interception and Brian Hoffman pulled in two more. Scoring touchdowns were Bill Kuykendall and Mark Bladergroen. Bob Whitmire again converted with two points after the touchdown.

A rainy day faced the Cavaliers the day of their 14-0 win over Fairfax. Touchdowns were scored by Bill Kuykendall and John Craig.

The game against Falls Church was to decide the Virginia 1-A Northern District Champion. Woodson came close with a 15-0 lead at halftime, but dwindled to a 15-15 tie. Bill Kuykendall scored the two Woodson touchdowns with Bob Whitmire kicking a field goal.

Junior Varsity Football

The Junior Varsity Football team had many talented players this year. In the closing seconds of the Annandale game with the score 12-8 WTW, Kevin Bomba made an interception on Annandale's 10 yard line, and crushed any hope for an Annandale victory. Larry Little ran back a punt for a touchdown in the game against McLean. John Ziegler was seriously injured while playing for the team, and was awarded with the Annandale game ball signed by all the members of the team, the coaches, Mr. Cunningham, and Mr. Ladson.

The camera catches Coach Boyes, in one of his less impressive moments, during a pep-strategy-get-out-and-WIN talk.

Due to the large number of freshmen that went out for football, two teams were formed instead of the usual one. The two teams were apparently evenly matched, because their season records were identical, and the game in which they played each other was a tie.

After winning their first two games, the Freshmen Football "A" team lost a close one to West Springfield. After a tie with Marshall, they easily beat Edison 14-6.

Straining hard to clear the cross-bar, Jim Gearhart demonstrates his fine ability and technique in the high-jumping event.

Junior Varsity Baseball

After several weeks of hard work, running, catching grounders, bunting, and all-round conditioning, the Junior Varsity baseball team was ready for the rough season that followed. After some really close games, the J.V. baseball team turned in a fine record for the season.

Tom Beck watches the close play at first, and anxiously waits to hear the umpire's decision.

Bill Carry concentrates hard as he fires the ball towards home plate.

Paul Gagon shows how its done, as he slams a serve across the net.

Tennis Team

Fighting the cold March winds, the Cavalier netmen practiced hard for their approaching competition. Fancy footwork, good timing, and lots of hustle, added up to an excellent season and a fine team.

J. Smith shows good form as he sends the ball back swiftly to his opponent.

Girls Softball

The occupants of the bench add their cheers and prayers to Joan Barton's attempts at a home run.

You win some, you lose some, Gail Schnieder discovers as the softball sneaks by.

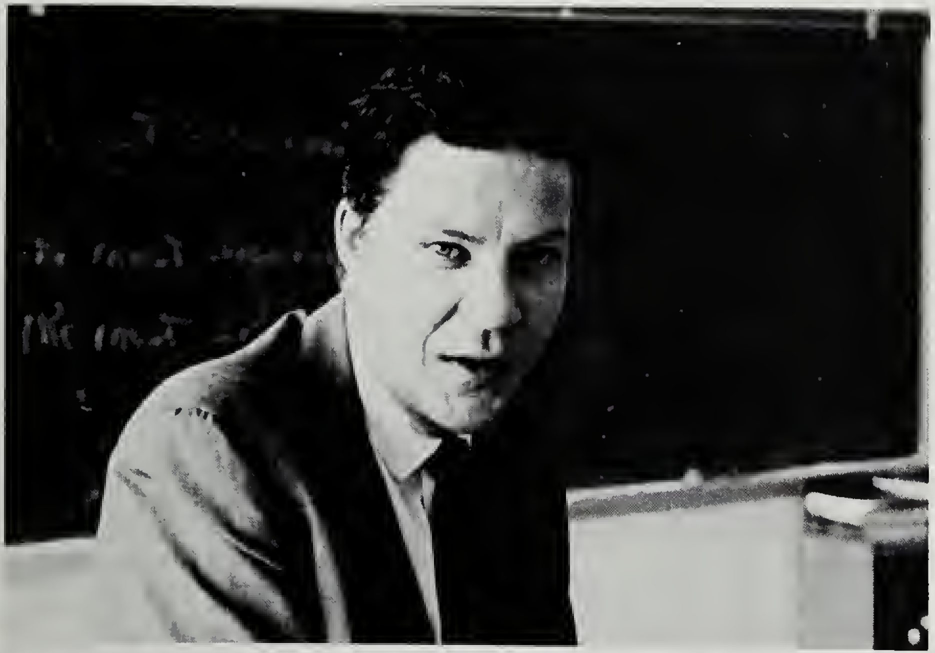
Social Studies

The facts and figures of Social Studies are becoming a means to an end, as the end itself they are now outmoded. No longer is a recitation of the names of all the past Presidents a feat worthy of praise. The Social Studies Department of Woodson is updating, keeping abreast of the present trends. Concepts and theories are now in the foreground. "Who," "What," "When," and "Where," are still around, but "How" and "Why" are in the limelight.



Students are learning the facts of social studies through the assistance of their student teacher, Chris Hoffman.

The ghoul raised the throbbing frog's heart into the air. Chuckling, he traced its intricate veins. But somehow as the year progresses you learn and the math becomes neat and easy and logical.

English

There is no getting around it, all students must study English. But mandatory doesn't mean mundane. Have you read the stirring original examples in English Sentences? Doesn't the Scarlet Letter turn you on? Isn't picking your own Senior lit courses a blast? Have you witnessed the outstanding performances of the Drama classes? Who says English has to be a grind?

You complain when you have to run around outside in those indecent gym uniforms.
You complain when you're clobbered in the shin with a hockey stick.
You complain when the basket ball jams your finger.
You complain when the showers are 147 degrees.
You complain when you run out of deodorant.
You complain when you fall off the balance beam.
But all the while you have a sneaking suspicion you're having fun.

With the homing instinct drawing them, Woodson students scurry to their busses.

In the dark of a deserted hall a student stoops to open his locker.

Reflections of the studious aspect of school life are caught in this student's face and on the tabletop.

This boy and girl discover that there is more to be done in school than just taking tests, listening to teachers' lectures, and fighting the crowds in the halls.

Student Council

In the Beginning there was Student Government. And Student Government moved upon the face of the school.

And Student Government said "Let there be an employment agency." and there was an employment agency and Student Government saw that it was good. And Student Government said "Let us make money:" and Student Government organized an open air concert and a magazine drive. And It saw that it was successful.

And Student Government said "Let there be brotherhood in the midst of hatred." and It organized Brotherhood Week. And It saw that it was good.

And Student Government saw everything that It had done, and behold, it was very good.

It was a dark and stormy night as the group gathered in the abandoned building. Only one room was lighted—dimly. After a year of clandestine meetings their creation was complete. German Club

A trip to a German school and restaurant is only a part of it. Wouldn't you like to help at the International Dinner or work at the Bazaar? Doesn't a visit to the Pennsylvania Dutch Country and Valley Forge sound enticing? Of course it does!

And all these activities have constituted a busy schedule for the German Club.

French Club

There is a bit of France in the air-not just the perfume of la mademoiselle sitting in front of you. Ah, more than that, mon cher! There is the Club Francais, a last remnant of civilization in this land of barbaric Anglo-Saxons. The King's French still has its loyal followers. De Gaulle has gone, but French has not.

The plane stands ready for the French Clubbers leaving for Europe.

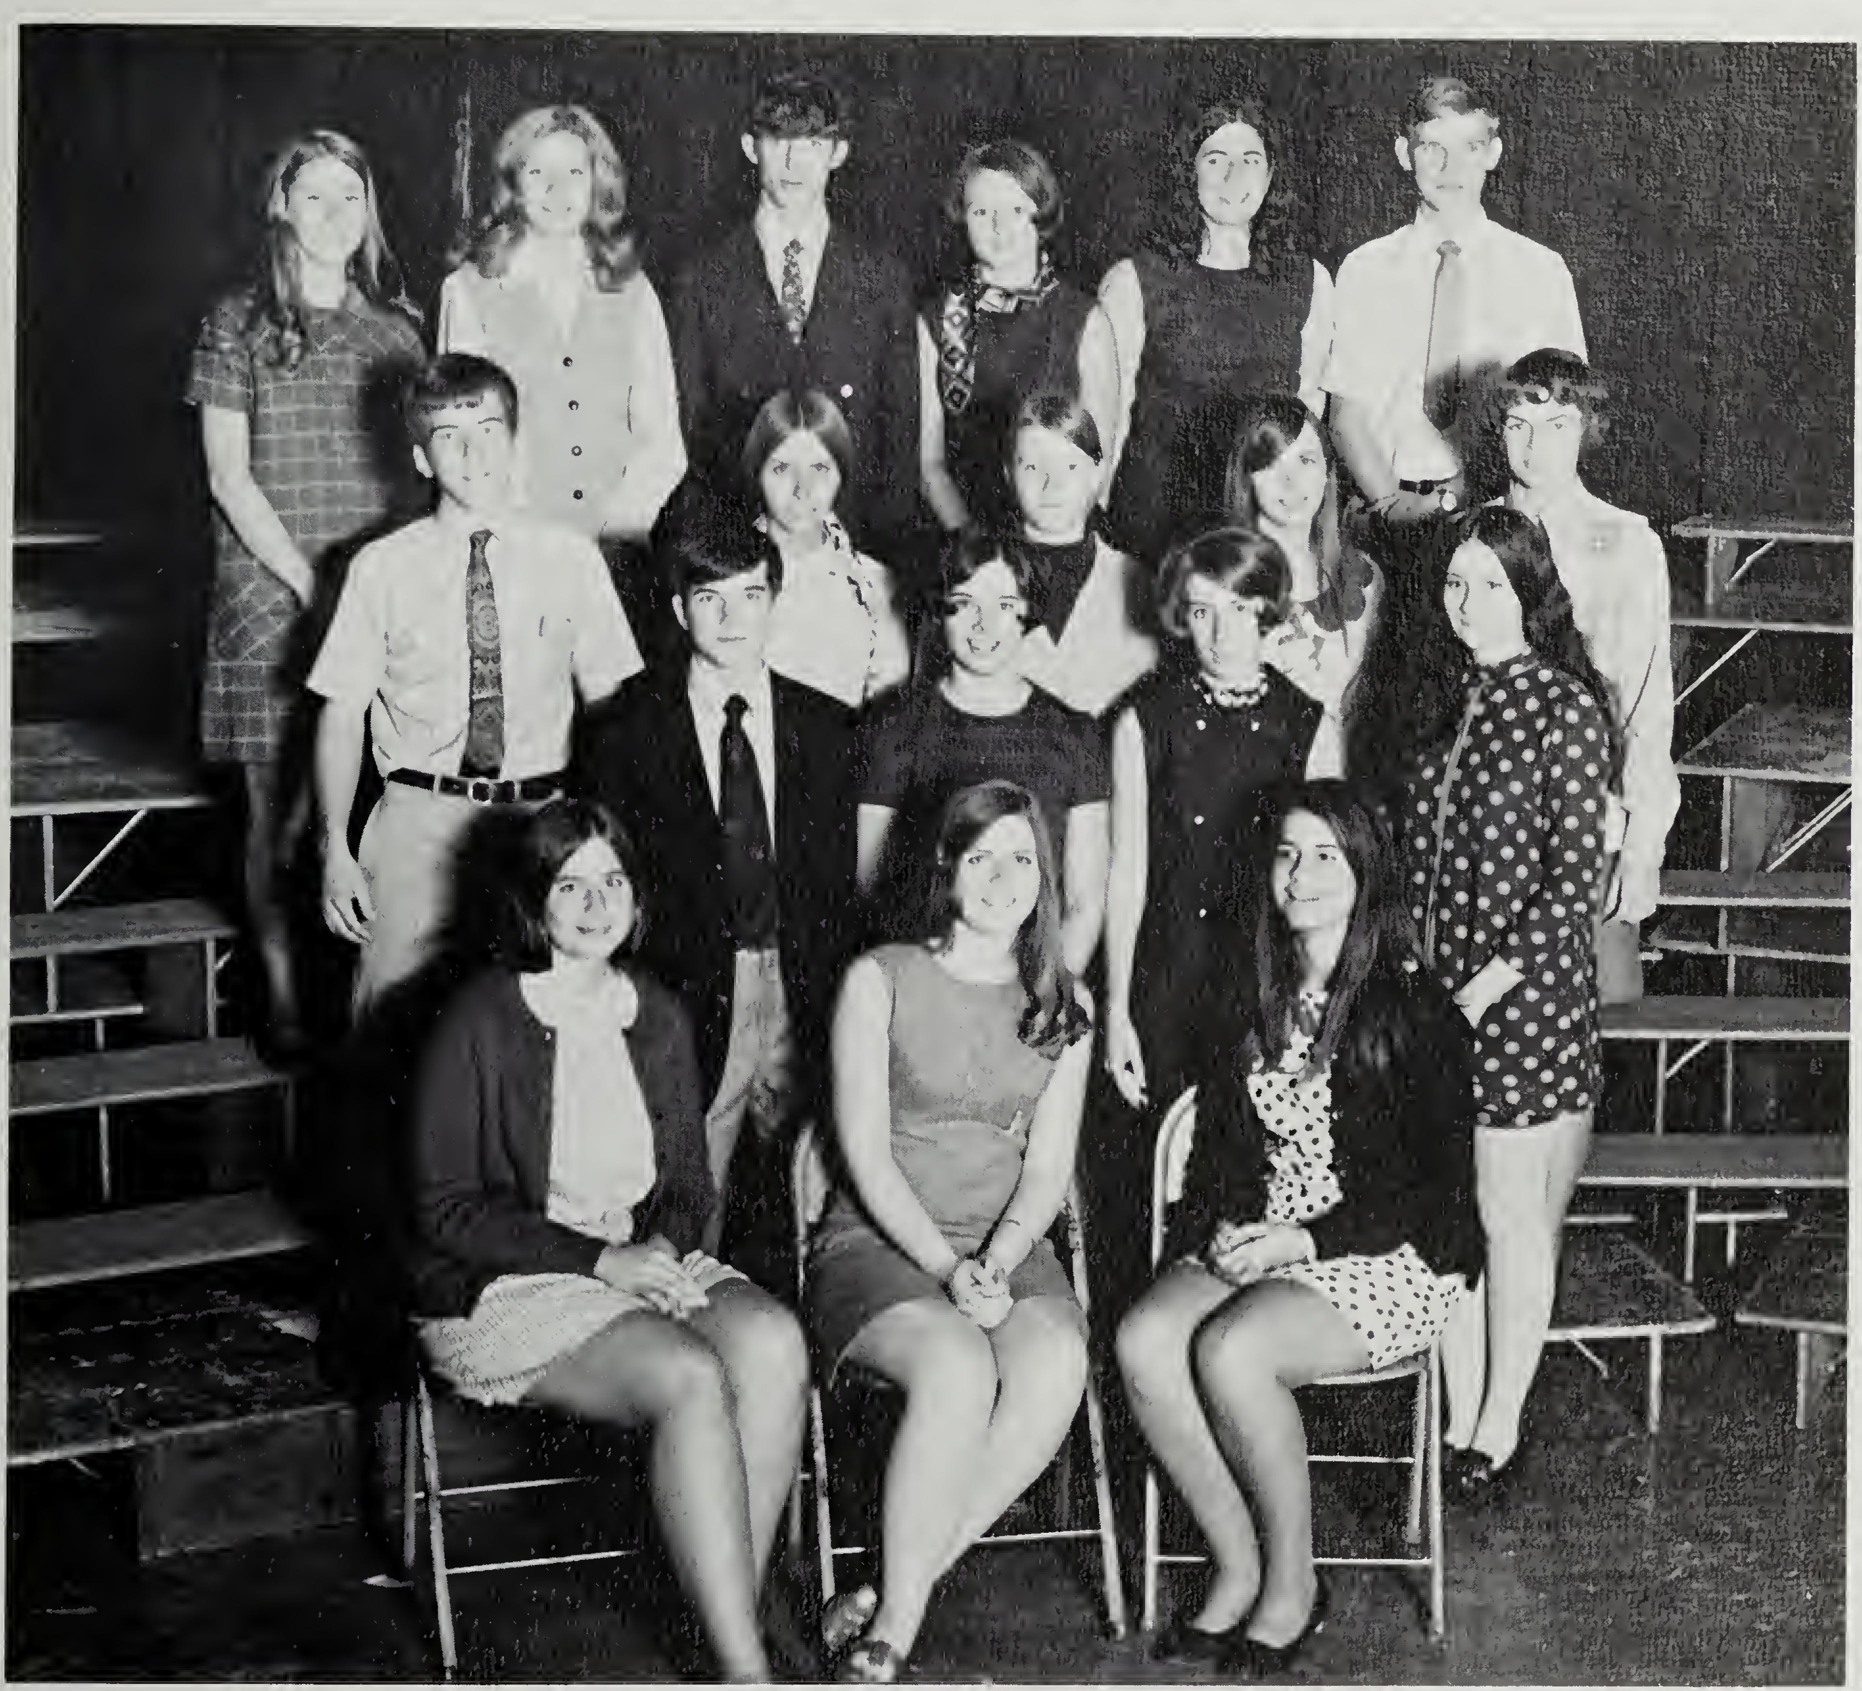
The International Dinner would have been just another dinner without them. The Soccer Club and German Club would have been unbeaten without them. There wouldn't be any Woodson pins without them. Who are they? Spanish Club.

Almost overcome with emotion after buying himself a Spanish Club class pin, Frank Crowe moves aside to allow other eager students to buy theirs. The Spanish Club, which sold the pins to promote school spirit, realized a huge profit.

Spanish National Honor Society



Spanish National Honor Society: Bottom Row: Ginnie Kirsch, Candace Callaham, Barb Abernethy; Row 2: Wayne Thornton, Nancy Cooper, Kathy Ale, Letecia Nickel; Row 3: Randall Petterson, Cindi Campbell, Kathy Brydges, Becky Spiher, Maggie Dominick; Top Row: Janet Moore, Carolyn Tulloh, Bilbo Baggins, Polly Humphreys, Madelaine Murad, Randy Rydell.

Portuguese Club: Seated: Miss Rita Moore, Leslie Mason; Standing: Karen Garibaldi, Brad Wing, Debbie Timmis, Wendy Mason, Mr. Paul Wachholz.

Portuguese Club

"Psst, tell The Group we meet at eight o'clock."

Most mornings before school the Portuguese Club, Woodson's underground cultural experience, congregates in a secluded corner of the language wing. There, little known and little heeded, they study the intricacies of Portugal, Brazil and the language they share.

The newest of Woodson's exchange students' from the Portuguese speaking countries of South America is this boa constrictor. Although not yet a member of the Portuguese Club, Mr. Houlihan has high hopes for his friend.

Latin Club

Stuffy scholars with their heads in books? Pseudo-Caesars with delusions of grandeur and dreams of conquest? In the Latin Club? Oh No! These are ordinary people with an edge; they have discovered Latin's secret (and they won't tell). And that's not all of Latin's allure. During Easter vacation these hardy souls stormed the hills of Rome with cries of "veni, vidi, vici", and left the live languages to their soccer games.

Service with a smile.
  Smile while you slave at the TB Center.
  Smile while your customers growl at you in the school store.
  Smile as you watch the decrepit old ladies at the nursing home.
  Smile when you do 1001 little unglamorous jobs around the school.
Maybe someone will smile back and make it all worthwhile.

Mrs. Schmitz of the guidance department admires one of the Christmas angels made by the Keyettes. Made from old telephone books, the angels brightened up the offices around the school.

Key Club

When you've got an irresistable urge to help an old lady across the street, and can't find any; when you've got a bad case of Patriotic Spirit, and you're not sure whether the Pledge of Allegiance is still legal; when you're really a frustrated Boy Scout as heart, but look awful in green—what do you do? Where do you go? Key Club!

Amid saws, hammers, sandpaper, and hinges, Brian Hoffman still finds time to smile while showing off his fabulous carpentry skill. Among the Key Club's many projects was the building of easels for the School for the Retarded in Fairfax.

Tri-Hi-Y

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of moral character." These are words of the Tri-Hi-Y's, just two of the many organizations devoted to service and fellowship. Under the guidance of Miss Bowers and Mrs. Leeper, and Mrs. Thompson, the clubs got off to an early start with inductions in October. The season was followed up with District Conferences, candy sales, bake sales, visits at nursing homes, slumber parties, school parking lot sweeps, UNICEF collections and other projects for the benefit of many.

National Honor Society

Character, Scholarship, Leadership, Service: with these qualifications you would expect a hybrid cross between George Washington, Albert Einstein, Adolf Hitler, and Clara Barton, that turns into a computer when the moon is full. You will be pleasantly disappointed. These kids aren't any different from any other intelligent, hardworking, honest, natural born leaders.

Jim Neil seems more interested in Michelle Winn than in distributing programs as the National Honor Society helped out at a performance of the Fairfax County Choral Society.

Forum on American History

What becomes of old, forlorn, dilapidated Fairfax County houses? Are they forgotten, heartlessly? Condemned and cruelly torn down? After sheltering countless people, is it annihilated without a second thought? Usually, yes. But the Forum on American History investigates these houses, gleaning information from Artifacts and reports to Fairfax County Libraries. The houses live on in memory if not in actuality.

Forensics

Forensics: Bottom Row: Ray Strang, Steve Berentson. Row 2: Salley Rhea, Mary Monroe, Susan McDavid, Julie Sherman. Not Pictured: Rick Gimmi, Bob Rodriguez, Steve Schulin.

Forensics is made up of students who specialize in the various forms of vocal communication. Students read poetry, plays, prose, speeches, speak extemperaneously and spell. Members are chosen from competitions held in the school, and these members compete in district competitions.

Debate Team

My scrappy, feisty friends, our Alma Mater has a place for you, a place where your quicksilver mind and doubleedged tongue will be lauded, a haven where you will find true argumentative bliss, a Debate Team. Curb your tongue during the week, tone it to an edge. On Monday night you will meet your match.

Math Team

You sit there with sweaty palms, a dry mouth and a nervous stomach, praying that a Divine Revelation will give you the answer or at least the right equation. And the fifteen seconds before the time is up the Revelation hits you, and you figure it out and write it down, and it's right . . . sometimes.

After having scribbled a large assortment of mathematical figures on the blackboard, which Brad Burfield would like us to believe are steps in working a problem assigned by the coach of the Math Team, he zonks out.

It's Academic

Every year three lucky triviaphiles make their television debut representing Woodson on It's Academic, a high school level version of College Bowl. This year's team, captained by Jim McNaughton and backed by Sharon Hercules and Debbie Balch, came in a brilliant second to Edison's first.

This year's Drama Club kept itself busy. Future Liz Taylors and future Elsie Washbunkles (the star of the Ice Blue Secret commercials) worked long hours side by side helping with such dramatic endeavors as Barefoot in the Park, the One Act Play Festival, a spring children's play, and the Senior Class Play workshops. Other activities included an assembly and sitting in drug stores waiting to be discovered.

Smoking in Woodson? Only on stage, as in the Drama Club production of Barefoot in the Park. Appearing in the play were John Bennett as Paul and Maureen Peer as the mother. As in previous years, the play was an astronomical success!

All the great sounds of music are brought to Woodson by students under the expert direction of two very skillful musicians, Mr. Grant and Mr. Cappell, who direct our talented choirs. Daily rehearsals keep everyone on their toes.

Through the efforts of this department, students learn to channel their talents by means of professional instruction.

Flaming Cavalette

Take one piece of steel, and a beautiful girl. Add a perpetual smile, a dash of glow and a pinch of glitter. Mix well. Pour into a blue wool container. Stir with a magic wand, and light.

Ribbon waving, baton twirling, hand held high, and smiling, Cheryl Greenberg captures the essence of the Baton Corps.

Precisionettes

Ah! Beep Beep!
Marching down the street
You can hear the beat!
Say "Ooo un gumba"
Cavaliers have the power
We said it, we meant it
We're here to represent it
Drill team number 1
Sock it to me one more time
Hugh!

The much improved Precisionettes have quite a lot to cheer about. Two trophies and the respect of the school.

"Right, left, right, left;" each girl silently whispers these words as she strives to keep a straight line and lift her legs high. Marching ever onward, the Precisionettes faithfully follow their leaders, Barbara Bixler and Kay Chronis.

They're really not vicious;
  Although reading their long hall posters would make you think so.
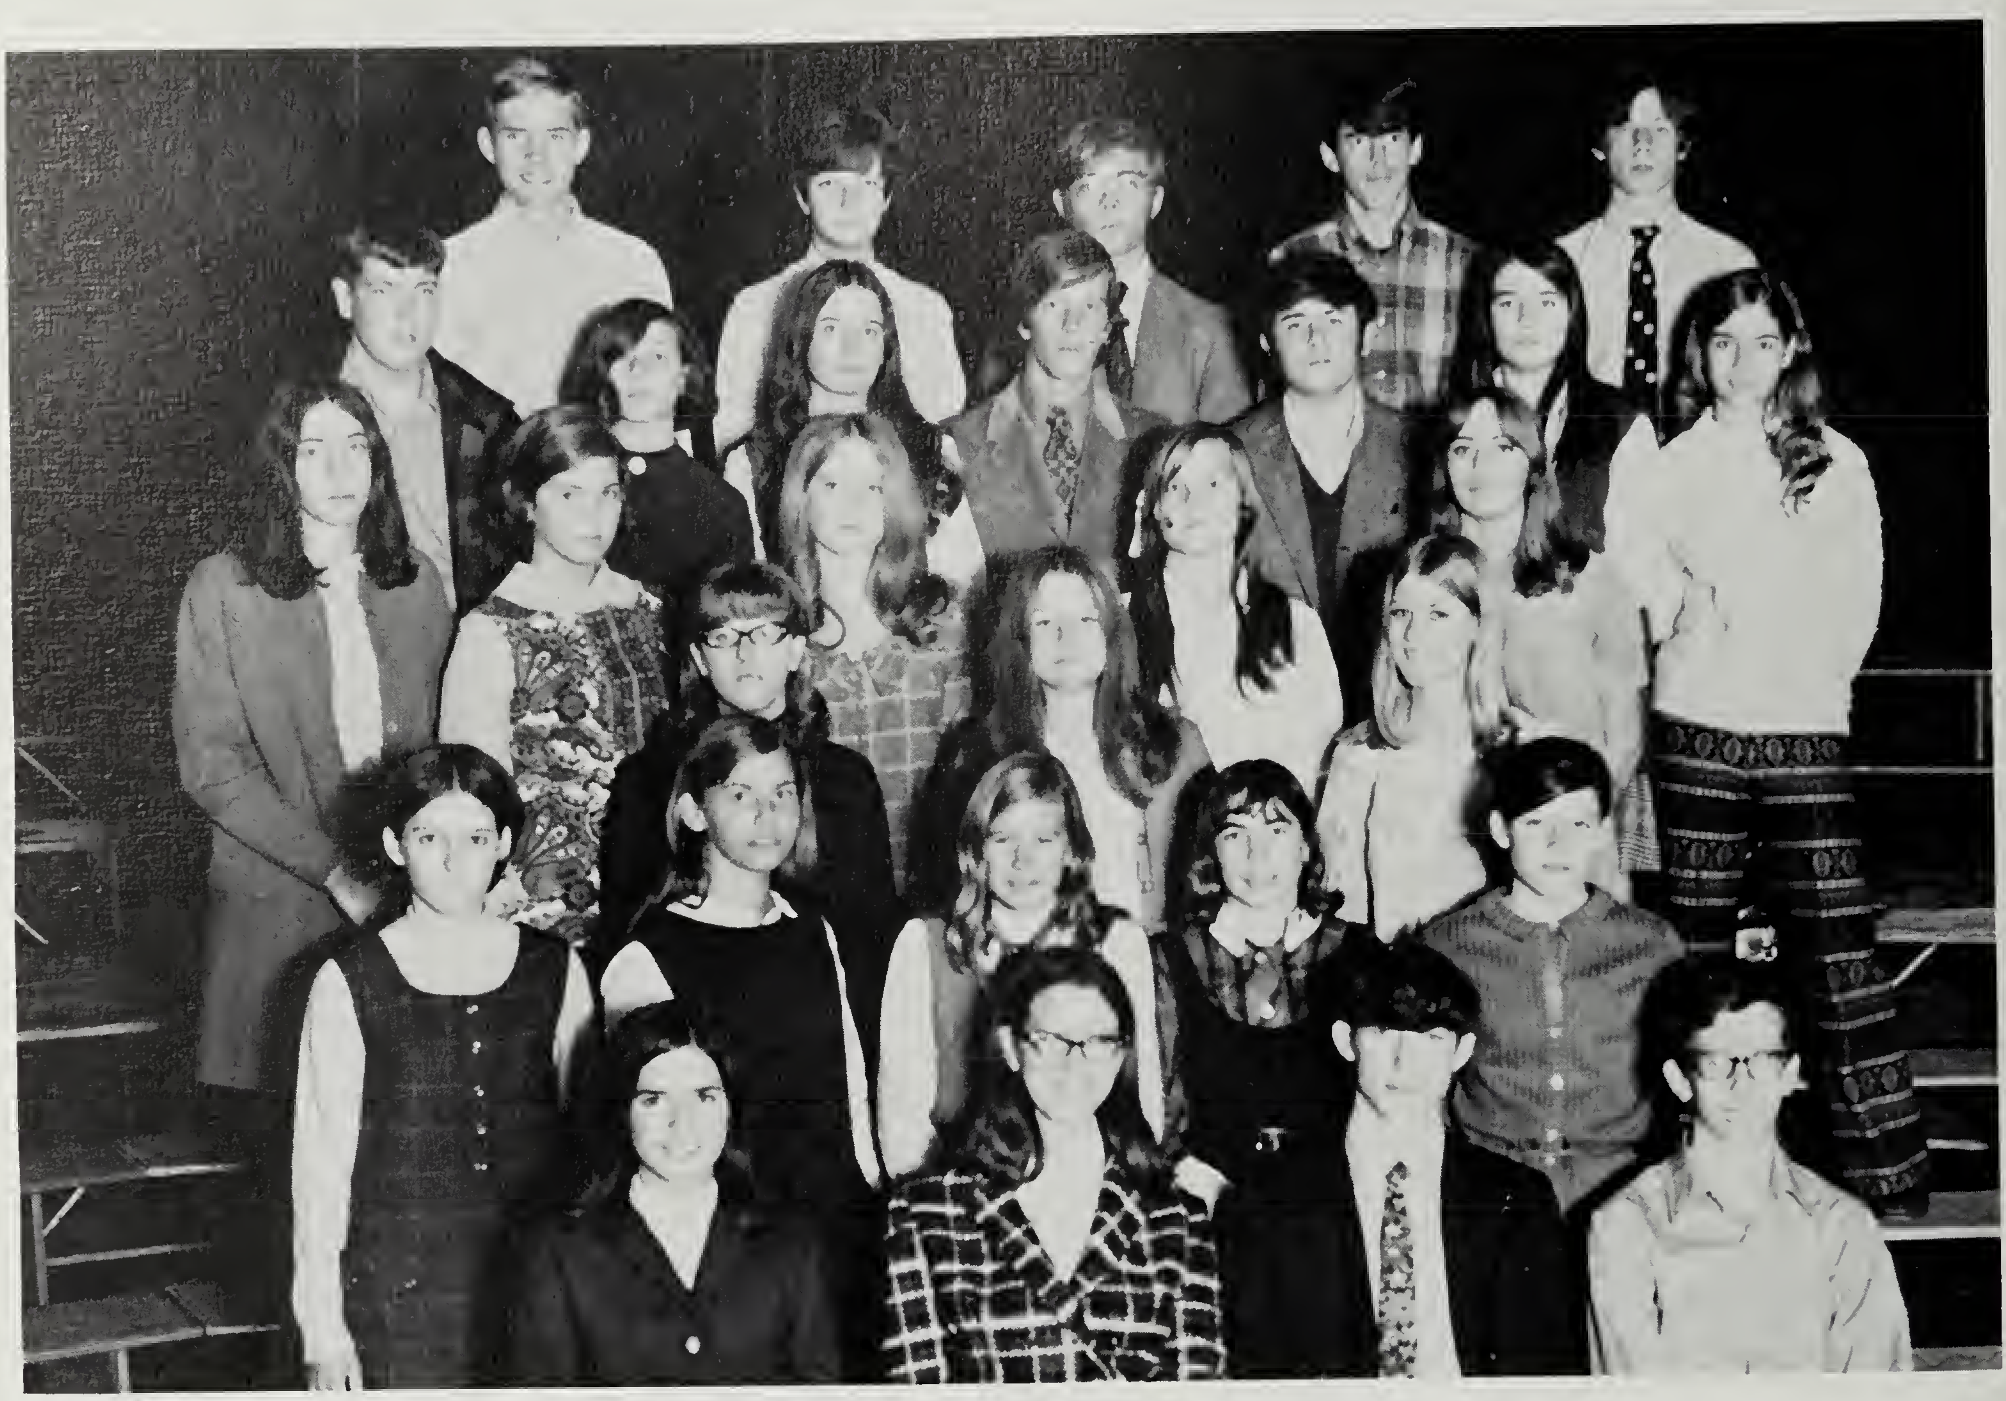
They're really not in the clothing business;
  Although they sell sweaters.
They're really not always starving;
  Although they had so many candy and bake sales.
They're just spirited and they let you enjoy it.

The Winter Sports Award banquet would have been nothing without the final touches which are applied to Cafeteria A.

Lonely hours of tedious work payed off with wall banners which adorned the school hallways. The banners, which proclaimed various sporting events and opponents, kept the average Woodson student well informed.

Once again the Pep Club provided another unhearlded service to the school. This time it was decorating the cafeteria walls at one of three Sports Awards banquets.

Folk Guild



Folk Guild: Bottom Row: Pam Granger, Sherry Allshouse, Bob Fine, John Hailey; Row 2: Sharon Neff, Pat Frank, Joyce Lauer, Laurie Rennebohm, Betsey Hazen; Row 3: Jenny Bennett, Mary Mayhall, Karen Holmes; Row 4: Ann Woolson, Sarah Brown, Debbie Wilcox, Holle Humphries, Linda Ellingboe; Row 5: Thom Cooper, Michel Gimmi, Karin Knausenberger, Michail Baker, Tom Philion, Debbie Cowan, Jody Smith; Top Row: Walt Rosch, Kim Evanko, Ray Strang, Mike Schulte, Eddie Johnson.

The Folk Guild exchanges and adapts their favorite songs of all varieties. To share their music and their mood with the rest of the school, the Folk Guild planned a "Folk Evening in Spring", with music, poetry, theater, and outside singers.

Sometimes before and after school, music slips out of the student lounge. There, the Folk Guild . . . congregates to enhance their repertoire.

Gathered round the piano, members of the Folk Guild get it together one afternoon down in the chorus room.

Art Guild

Neither not-for-profit, nor not-for-pleasure, the Art Guild lined their treasury with a Christmas sale of copper enamels, beads, and stationery; and primed their creativity with a New York trip that included museums, a Broadway show and, of course, Greenwich Village.

Modern Dance

With grace, with agility, with coordination, with skill, with emotion, with unbelievable flexibility, the girls in Modern Dance express themselves with their whole bodies.

"Come on, hurry up and take the picture! My leg's killing me!" cries a member of the Modern Dance Club as they take a strenuous pose on the lawns of Woodson.

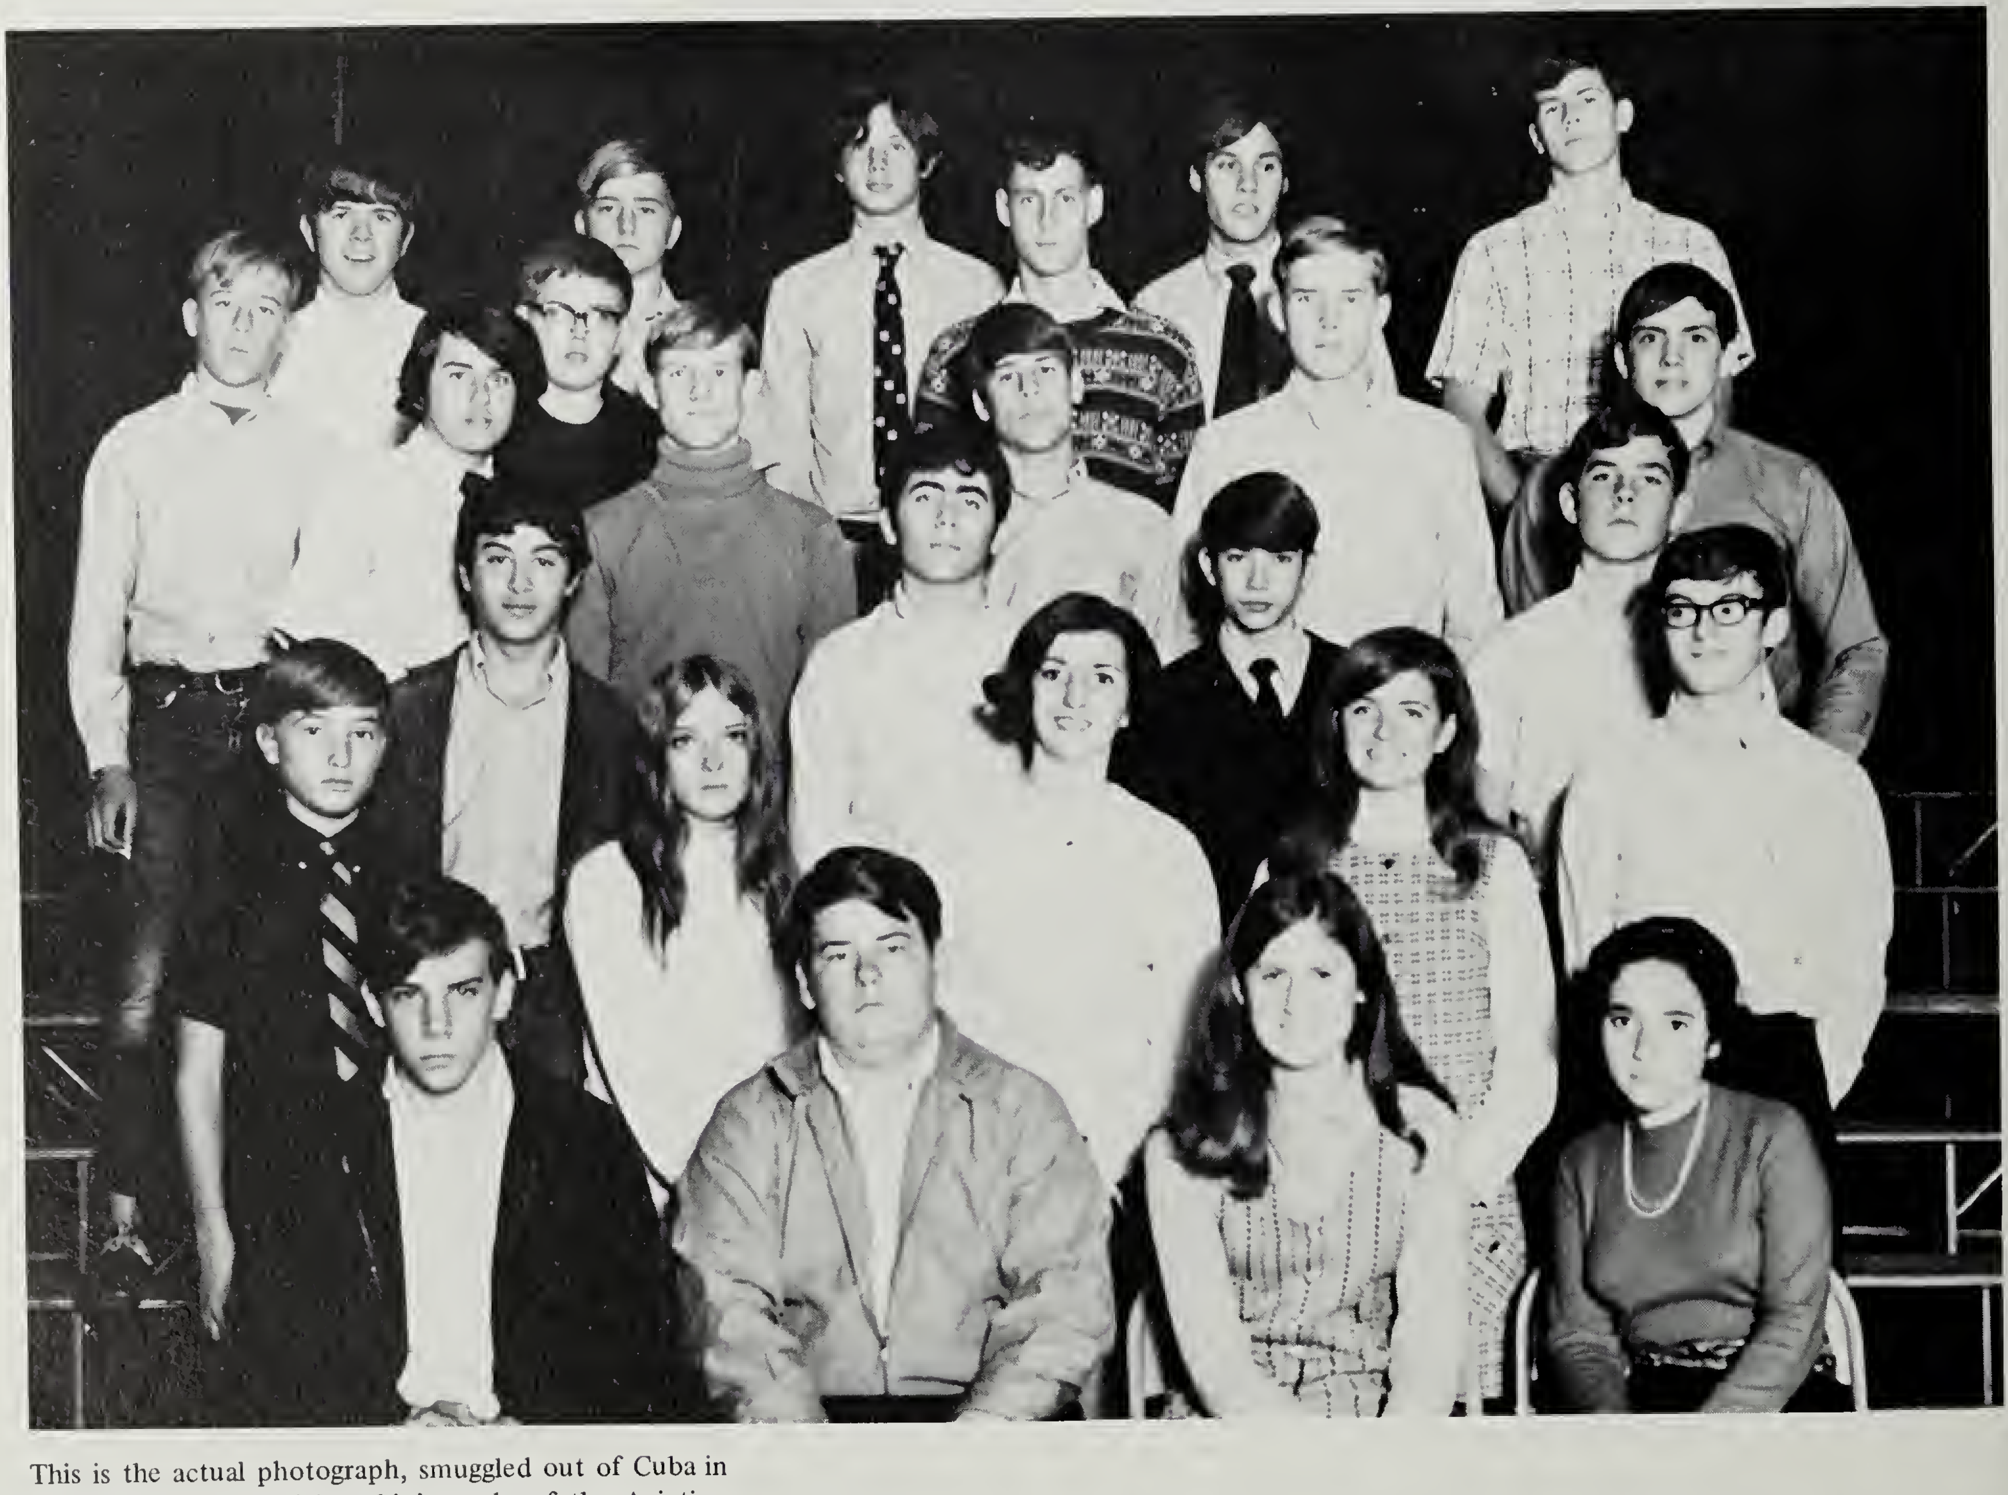
When you hear these girls talking about "horse" and "grass" don't call the narcotics squad; grab a saddle and join the fun. The Equestrian Club members get their kicks from horse as in "equus". Their activities have included taking trips to the International Horse Show and the Al Marah Arabian Horse Farm, trail-riding, hunting and showing, and sponsoring their own horse show.

Aviation Club

Who else would think of an airplane wash but the Aviation Club. The airplane wash along with a movie and several car washes were, hopefully, only the beginning in the quest for a glider kit. The Aviation Club members have their hearts set on building and flying an $1100.00 make-it-yourself airplane.

The object of the aviation club's lust and admiration twinkles in the airport sun.



This is the actual photograph, smuggled out of Cuba in the armpit of a Bolivian ship's cook, of the Aviation Club shortly after its first attempt at navagation.

Archeology Club

Fate frowned upon the Archeology Club this year and their many postponed meetings caused cancellation of some of their projects. But they did get a chance to grub around the foundations of Fairfax Station and to throw their influence, however meager, on the side of other organizations dedicated to the preservation of old landmarks.

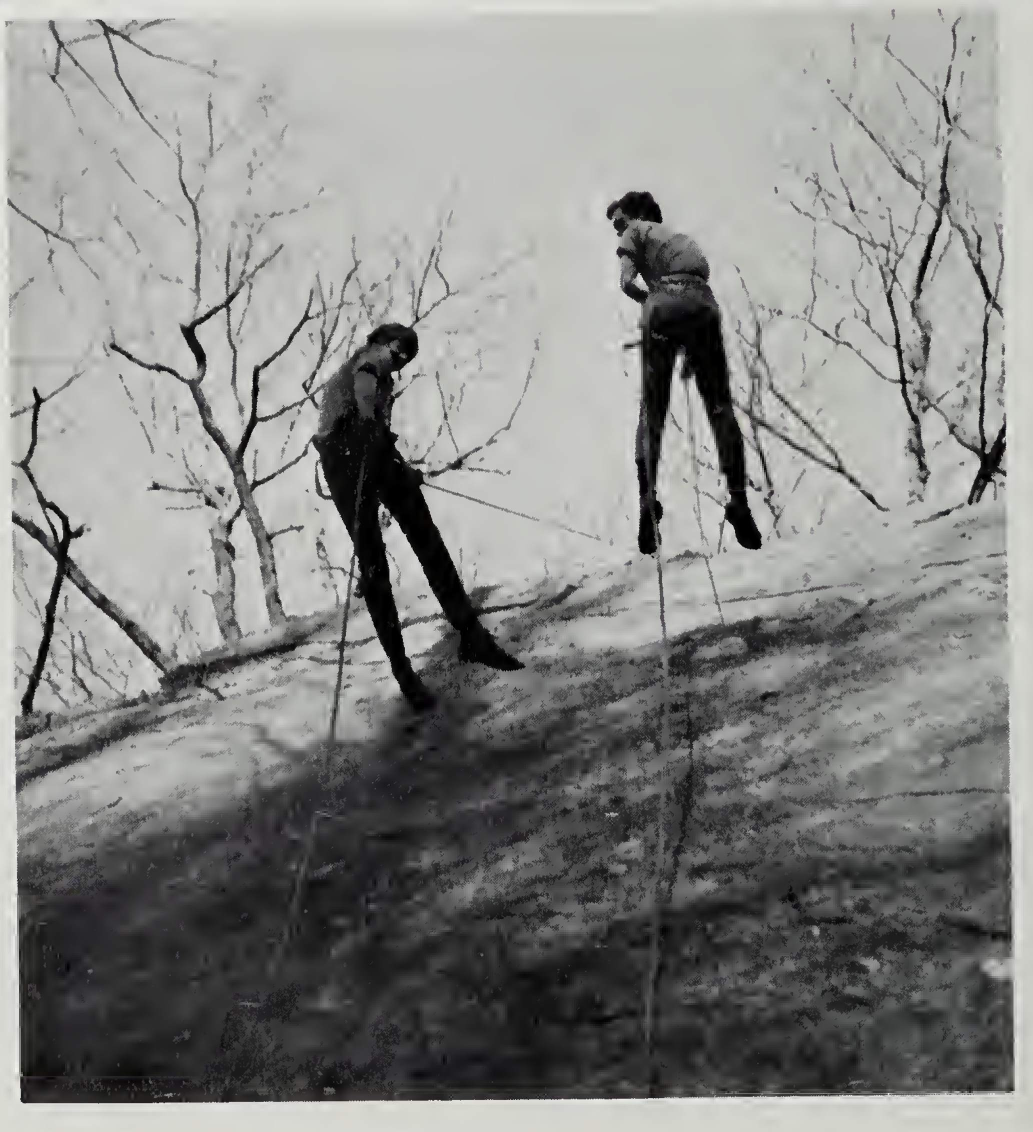
Three jolly gravediggers from the archeology club desperately try to remove each other's feet with pick-ax and shovel.

Subterranean Science Club

Subterranean Science Club: Bottom Row: Bruce Singleton, Craig Clark; Row 2: Gail Knothe, Chiraphon Bhumichitr; Top Row: John Whittenburg, Mike Keenan, Dale Gallagher.

Onward and downward through crevices, mud, muck, insects, and occasionally, the air. Their world only that small space illuminated by their head lamps. Why would anyone want to risk life, limb, and sanity in the bowels of the earth?

It's beneath me.



Cave men of the Subterranian Science Club practice rapelling down a cliff. What must go down must first go up.

Science Fiction and Fantasy Club

One may wonder where this close knit group of fanatics dwell. Perhaps, they live in some misty dimension between time and space or a distant unknown planet. Surprisingly enough, they roam the halls of Woodson. To look upon them you would think they were just normal students, but gaze closer and you will perceive faces are secrets dark and terrifying, thoughts that could turn lesser men into babbling idiots.

The Future Scientists of America can be identified by their star-glazed eyes and nocturnal habits. (Who else would have a star party?). Their interests, though, are not limited to the celestial. To sate their thirst for knowledge of the aquatic they journeyed to the Naval Ship Research and Development Center.

Even the school profits from the intellectual instincts of the Science Researchers. Woodson is soon to be blessed with the arrival of a little Greenhouse.

Future Scientists of America

Explaining the intricate process involved in catching a solar eclipse to an onlooking Science Club member, Larry Birch prepares for a once in a life-time experience.

Industrial Cooperative Training

An avant-garde, and practical, idea for some colleges is called a work-study program. Woodson has its own version, it's called Industrial Cooperative Training. ICT is a work-study program in which the student spends one half of the day taking classroom courses, and the other half of the day working at an industrial job.

One of the major projects for this year was trying to insure this program's continuation.

VICA

The skilled craftsmen of tommorrow are in VICA today. The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America has a chapter at Woodson comprised of students in cosmetology, auto mechanics, nursing, and drafting.

VOT

To you it's scribbles—to them it's words.

To you it's red tape—to them it's routine.

These are the people who have survived the labyrinth of the modern American office.

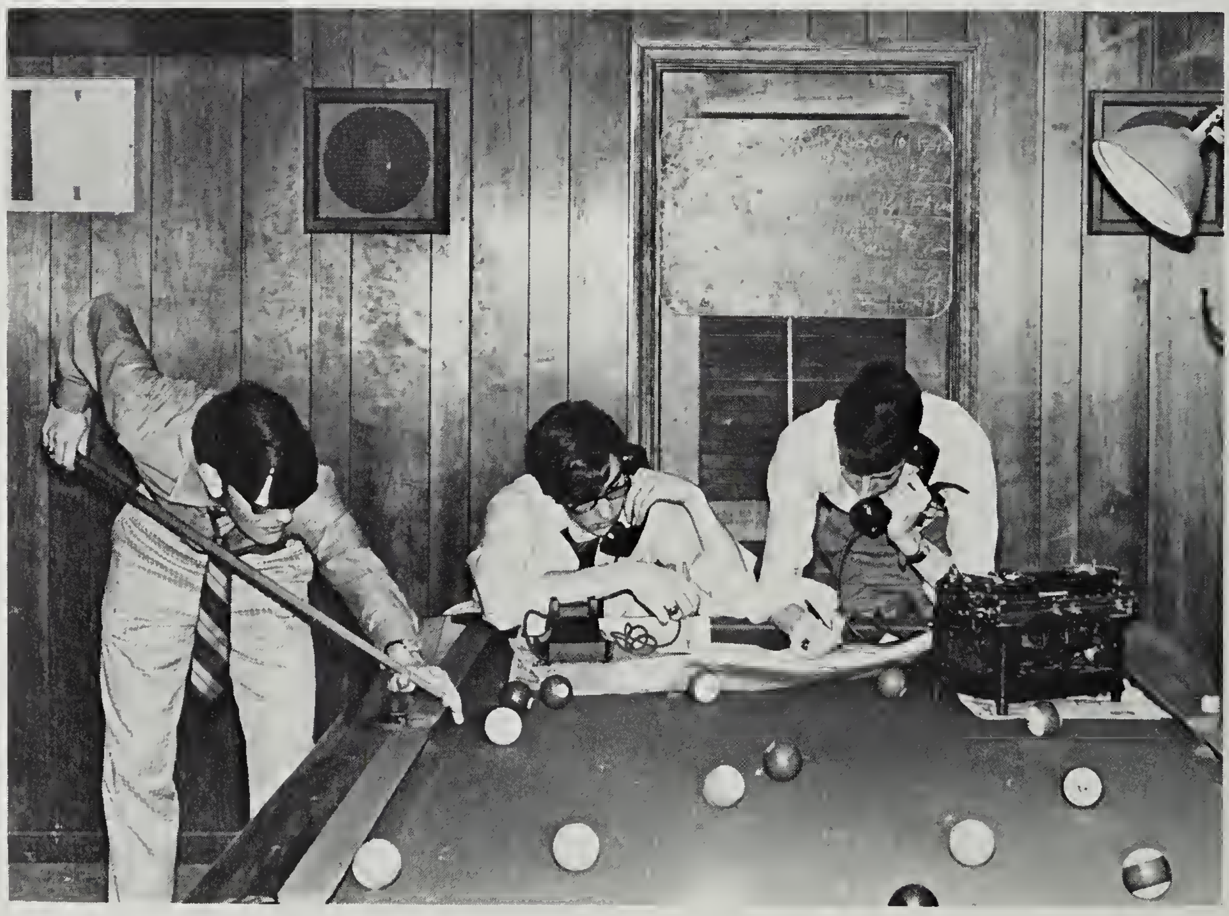
Although plagued with "the new club syndrome", that is disorganization, the Future Business Leaders of America did manage to arrange a few projects such as a fashion show and a candle sale. Next year, the club hopes to have saved enough money to join the National Chapter of the FBLA and to participate in conventions on business leadership, service projects, and valuable discussions about the business world.



Planning strategy for their future take-over of the business world, these aspiring young businessmen sharpen the skills which will make them successful in later life.

There is a plot afoot to take over the schools of America. So far, the insurgents seize power only on the first and third Wednesday of the month. Their pretense of Student Observing and Teaching is only a ruse to lull the school administrations. The Candy Wreath Sale, Christmas Bazaar Booth, and bake sales were money-raising projects to support this plot. That F.T.A. Convention is really the final planning seassion for the coup d'etat.

Teachers beware, the F.T.A. is after your jobs!

Future Teachers of America: Joy Boblitt, Ruth Sutton, Chris Hoffman, Nancy Eger, Nancy Gonzales, Donna Gravenstine, Evelyn Heising, Anne McGuigan, Nancy Coopper, Ginnie Kirsch, Nancy Hilgert, Jennifer Hays, Pam Sibley, Jennifer Ney, Debbie Baldus, Janet Racke, Ellen Godsen, Donna Smith, Susie Ciotti, Nancy Bucco, Ronnie Morrill, Janet White, John Moore, Mary Lynch, Jan Mitchell, Ann Coscia, Beth Brenton, Kathy Butler, Julia Amos, Kathy Ale, Sherri Smith, Martha Trice, Diane Griggs, Beth Cumbie, Linda Agresta, Linda Cyr, Kathy Brydges, Angela Ferro, Anne Lines, Varyn Wehterington, Cathie Morse, Kem McCoy, Diane Price, Miki Addington, Carol Claybrook, Sue McGuegan, Shelley Hackley, Mary Mowery, Jane Shaw, Angie Abshire, Sharon Thompson, Kathy McGinn, Sharon Will, Jane Karalis, Carol Zilian, Mary Karalis, Marcia Karalis, Marilyn Pond, Patti Briner, Lynda Petty, Marcia McOmber, Eileen Marooft, Lois Hunt, Melanie Bales, Carol Cameron, Kathy Kirsch, Christy Esco, Carla Comish, Jean Florio, Cathy Hinceiwicz, Peggy Briggs, Sue Miller, Liz Cormier, Diane Wilgus, Kathy Brandil, Tripp Jones, Jerry Brase, Bill Ford, Kathie Lynch, Alice Barham, Kim Evanko, Mike Seaman, Becky Ralerto, Mary Guerrant, Cindy Carneal, Karen Hedrick, Karen Gill, Tina Noga, Diane Tancredi, Carol Jackson, Sidney Abercrombie, Donna Gill, Sara Samoriske, Lin Knighton, Theresa Knudsen, Sue Samoriske, Linda Foster, Anne Moleney, Linda Solorzano, Ann Bellman, Kathy Keener, Kaccy Gray, Koni Lodge, Harolyn Hess, Beth Holmstrup, Maureen Fitzgerald, Nancy Peters, Ellen Derey, Ulli Baussus, Sandra Bragg, Barbara Donaghy.

Mr. Billak gets in one last whack with his trusty paddle before the F.T.A. raffles it away.

To Dare is to Care.

This was the slogan for the dedicated members of the Future Homemakers of America.

They practiced this slogan by trying to get a better understanding of different problems within our world. They did this through activities such as their Generation Gap Dinner, teacher teas, the donation of stuffed animals to handicapped children, and the Model U.N. luncheon.

Stage Crew

The heavy velvet curtain slowly slid apart. Darkness covered the room like a blanket. Silence. Suddenly a light shot toward the stage. Microphones connected. It's happened again. The Stage Crew has struck.

Manipulating the many dials and levers was just one of the jobs of the Stage Crew. Here, Dave Howard adjusts the lights on the stage to successfully augment one of the many performances put on at Woodson.

Assistants.
A bugle salute!
Search lights flash through the air.
Fireworks explode with joyful abandon.
A cast of thousands grovels at their feet in poses of humble admiration for their efforts.
The assistants! The indispensable assistants!
But alas! It is only a dream. Their help, their patience, and their loyalty usually remain unheralded and unappreciated.
But some day . . . some day!
